

BOUILLON FEARS CONSPIRACY WORTHY OF CITY OFFICE

Utilities Commissioner Testifies at Hearing This Morning He Suspects a Move in Civic Circles to Undermine Him in Official Life

TELLS OF HIS RELATIONS WITH CITY SUBORDINATES

At the investigation this morning Commissioner Bouillon created a mild sensation when he stated under cross examination by C. G. McCaul, counsel for the committee, that there existed a political conspiracy in civic circles, the object of which was to have him removed from office. Praised for a definite answer, the commissioner backed down and murmured something to the effect that he had heard there was such a conspiracy. "Come out from behind the bush and tell us what you mean," remarked Mr. McCaul. "I will go no further," was the reply.

During the course of the investigation the commissioner stated unqualifiedly that the superintendents were responsible for their departments. They were supposed to hire and fire their own men, although the commissioners did interfere at times and advise the superintendents to dismiss some of their employees and hire some one else. The commissioner admitted under pressure that he had interfered in the case of the Banwater, hired a clerk, other than the one proposed by the commissioner, that the superintendent would be dismissed.

STRATHCONA BOY AMONG MISSING

Anthony O'Donnell, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Manus O'Donnell, disappeared from his home in Strathcona Sunday evening and his whereabouts have been a mystery to the parents as well as officers engaged in a search for him. Sunday morning little Anthony accompanied by his mother, Jack Cassidy, went out the Y-trail to the Cassidy farm two miles east of Strathcona. The two boys played about the place all day. About 2:30 in the evening Mrs. Cassidy sent young O'Donnell home and the boy had not been seen since. The parents are unable to account for his disappearance and are distracted.

Winnipeg Business Men Are Coming to Edmonton Among Other Big Places on Special

A party of 110 prominent business men of Winnipeg, traveling on a special train, will arrive in Edmonton on Thursday over the C. N. R. and after spending some time in the city will go south to Calgary, visiting Strathcona, Lacombe and Lethbridge on the way. The special train left Winnipeg yesterday and is now on its way west over the C. N. R. The party is composed of a side trip to Northern and Prince Albert on the schedule.

Before going east over the C. P. R. from Calgary the party will visit Banff for a short time.

Big Tannery Will be Added to the City's Growing Industries

All those interested in the industrial progress of Edmonton, and they are many, will be pleased to learn that a large tannery is soon to be established in this city.

The financial organization of this company is already an accomplished fact, and the registration of the company under the name of the Great Northern Tannery, will appear in the next issue of the Gazette.

The Great Northern Tannery has an authorized capital of $100,000 and its directors are being chosen from among the best known business men in Edmonton, so that the enterprise is bound to grow and should soon become one of the most important industries in the province. This city is the centre of a tanning country the reputation of which extends all over America, and the number of animals raised in this section is increasing from day to day. The beef industry is rapidly assuming large proportions and many sheep find their way to the Edmonton market each week, and from on hides of these animals the leather is made.

At the present time we pay freight both ways on our leather, on the outgoing hides and the returning leather. Home manufacture will avoid this necessity.

In addition to this, the establishment of a tannery here will facilitate the establishment of many allied industries, such as the manufacture of harness, gloves, shoes, and glue products.

The new tannery will be under the direction of M. P. Long, who has had 14 years' experience in the tanning business in France, which is the home of the tanning industry. For the last four years Mr. Long has managed the tannery at Camrose, from which place he obtained many prizes at the Calgary and Edmonton fairs for the high quality of the products manufactured.

DECISION AGAINST TOBACCO OCTOPUS

U.S. SUPREME COURT HOLDS AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY IS ILLEGAL COMBINATION

Washington, D. C., May 30.—The supreme court of the United States today brought in a decision declaring the American Tobacco Company and all corporations affiliated with it, including the British combination, to be co-operators in a combination in restraint of trade, illegal under the Sherman act. The case is sent back to the lower court with direction to further hear the parties to ascertain whether a conspiracy has been created. With a portion of the judgment Justice Tarlan concurred, but with a section of it he gave a vigorous dissent. He agreed that the American Tobacco Company and its subsidiary and subsidiary corporations were members of an unlawful combination in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

LYNCHER TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER IN OHIO CITY

Newark, O., May 30.—The case of Art. Dover, indicted in connection with the lynching of Carl Ellerston in July of last year, was called for trial today before Judge Nicholas. Dyer had offered to plead guilty to manslaughter, but the judge refused to accept the plea because Dyer is said to have incited the mob at the time of the lynching.

ENGINEER AND HIS FIREMAN ARE CRUSHED TO DEATH

Spokane, May 30.—Derailed at a sharp curve 20 miles east of Lind, Washington, "Columbia," an east-bound passenger train on the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound railway was wrecked early today. The engineer and fireman were instantly killed and at least one passenger seriously injured. Reports from the wreck are meager, the injured being taken to Lind. The "Columbia" is the second passenger train to leave Seattle over the Milwaukee line since the completion of the road. The train was new and was fully equipped. Seven cars were derailed, the engine, smoker and day coach being demolished.

FOREST FIRES RAGE

Shelburne, N. S., May 30.—Fifteen houses have been destroyed and many persons are homeless as a result of forest fires which are today being controlled through Shelburne county. Fire started near Clyde river and has already burned hundreds of acres of valuable timber lands.

EXCURSION WILL BRING SETTLERS

Two of the largest settlers excursions of the season, organized under the auspices of the public agents of the Alberta government, leave the cities of Montreal and Toronto today, en route for this province. In the neighborhood of five hundred of the best of the farmers of eastern Canada will be anticipated, be brought into Alberta by the excursion trains. No word has been received from the commissioners for some days past, but it had been anticipated by them that from 250 to 500 passengers would buy tickets for each of the excursions.

The party of settlers leaving Toronto today, was brought together by G. H. Macdonald, public agent of the province in the Queen city. Mr. Macdonald will not himself accompany the new settlers westward, as his time is too fully occupied in publicly work in Toronto to permit of his leaving that city at the present time. The party will be conducted by one of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway officials. The route will be via Chicago and from this point the settlers will be brought through to Edmonton, which will be the principal stopping place. The party will be met at the station by L. H. Maclure, of the provincial public department, is in charge of the party from Montreal. Whether the excursion will follow the route of the G. T. P. or the C. P. R. was not determined when Mr. Maclure was last heard from.

Undesirable Citizens Do Not Find Canada Desirable Place

Complex Situation Arising From Immigration Rush to Great Northwest Handled in Admirable Manner by Authorities of Alberta

TWO CONVICTS DEPORTED OVER THE BOUNDARY LINE

Two convicts, Fred English and Henry Heishenger, who have served terms of two and one half years and two years respectively in the Alberta penitentiary here are being deported to the United States this week. English was sentenced over two years ago to a four year term for horse stealing. He will be taken to his former home state, Montana. Heishenger was sentenced two years ago to a three year term for forgery. He is being deported to Oregon because he had been originally sentenced to Canada.

Two immigration officers from Winnipeg, John Hechtel and S. St. Germain are in the city looking after the deportation of the two men. English was taken from the penitentiary yesterday and the other man will leave today.

Not only convicts who have been serving terms in the penitentiary or other bad characters get deported from the western provinces. The immigration authorities are constantly at work on cases and every little while persons are sent back over the line, of whom the public hears little or nothing.

In many cases they are people who are in unfortunate circumstances through failure of their business. They cannot live in this country under the conditions in which they find themselves and the government just has to step in and help them back to where they belong.

Elk and Buffalo Are Sent This Morning to Canadian National Park Wainwright

A stock car containing eight head of buffalo and eight elk for the Canadian National park at Wainwright was shipped east from Edmonton this morning. It was accompanied by Alec Argyle, a Dominion government immigration agent who brought it here from Montana where the animals were rounded up on the ranch of Michael Pablo.

This is practically the last shipment of buffalo from the states to Canada at Wainwright. A large band of Indians and cowboys has been engaged for several weeks rounding up the herd among the hills and over the plains of the Pablo range. The animals that are still at large will be left.

It was expected that Michael Pablo himself would accompany the last shipment of buffalo to Canada but he was very ill at present and was unable to participate in the round up of the herd. He has sent word to Howard Douglas, commissioner of Dominion government parks that he hopes to be able to visit Edmonton and the buffalo park at Wainwright some time during this summer but it will not be until his health is improved. Pablo is now about 60 years old.

The prize will be $40, the second $20, and the third $10, the prizes being awarded to the most efficient company. The Edmonton schools will be in competition with each other as well as with the schools of Strathcona and Calgary.

He had been sinking gradually for some days past. He was 67 years of age and had been in the military service since 1898 as general superintendent. He entered on a business career in Calgary and was largely interested in real estate. He leaves a wife, two daughters and two sons.

London, May 30.—E. G. Goby, who has charged Epsom with the Derby favorite, deprecates the report that an attempt will be made to shut out Joe's roll in the race.

"More than $5,000,000 was won on Sunstar already. The betting in opposition to Sunstar comes chiefly from France, but I don't think anything else in the race is worth backing."

"The king will visit Epsom course each day of the meeting, unless Saturday, and be accompanied by the queen and nearly every member of the royal family on Derby day."

TO HAVE SUNDAY BAND CONCERTS AT THE PARK

PAVES WAY FOR A RATIONAL SUNDAY AND WOULD AFFORD THE CITIZENS AN OPPORTUNITY TO SPEND DAY IN PLEASANT MANNER.

As the first step in the direction of rational Sunday for the people of Edmonton, the inauguration of Sunday band concerts in the east end park, with a special service over the street railway system by way of the Jasper avenue extension, and the provision, as far as may be of every convenience and comfort for citizens who desire to spend a portion of their week-end in one of Edmonton's most attractive heavy spots, promises to prove an epoch making one. Incidentally the innovation will convert the deficit which has hitherto been an inevitable corollary of the Sunday traffic into a surplus for the street railway department. The day when receipts have been smallest, will become the one day in the week when high water mark in passenger revenue may be reached.

On Sunday three thousand people travelled in special cars to the East End park, and the Sunday traffic records were beaten by a wide margin. In all 12,083 passengers took advantage of the street car service on the first day of the experiment, bringing in a revenue of no less than $609.21. The swollen receipts were almost entirely due to the experiment of the street railway department in giving a good service, providing as many cars as could be placed on the route, and double headers on both Jasper east and the old route to the park by way of Alberta avenue. The Sunday service, and the Sunday band concert, have already passed the experimental stage, and have become an established institution in the city. On the Sunday before the Jasper line was opened, only 9,046 passengers paid fares on the radial lines, and the revenue was $432.95.

The average week day traffic on the street railway was in April 15, 15,098 passengers, while for May the average will be close upon 18,000 passengers a day, so that it will be seen that the light Sunday loads have in the past been responsible for a very considerable proportion of the deficit which has been piled up against the municipal radial system. Superintendent Knight declares that it is his intention if possible to make Sunday the heaviest traffic day in the week, and the ready response of the public last Sunday would appear to indicate that this ambition will not be difficult of realization. In the superintendent's office are a number of diagrams, known as "curves," which illustrate the fluctuation of traffic from day to day. Since the first car was run over the system, Sunday has been indicated on the chart by a very deep dip. Within the next two or three weeks it is hoped that this dip will have changed to a pronounced curve. This may signify the difference between a paying and a non-paying system.

Until the operation of the new service has been closely studied, no fixed time table will be drawn up by the street railway department. The service given on Sunday, however, will be closely followed during the coming week end, and if it again proves successful, a regular schedule may be announced. From 6.30 in the morning until noon three cars were provided from Vermilion avenue to the Jasper east bridge. From noon until 1.30 in the evening, seven cars were in commission, three cars running as double headers at fifteen minute intervals, and the extra car being requisitioned in between the regular schedule times. From McKenzie avenue in the west, along Jasper avenue and Namaya and Syndicate to the northwest end of the exhibition park on Alberta avenue, double service was provided, and during the greater part of the afternoon seven crowded cars carried citizens to the park by this route. Fourteen out of the twenty cars which were maintained in service in the afternoon and evening were requisitioned for traffic to and from the park. The schedule outlined above, is now to be continued throughout the week, the Vermilion avenue cars running out to the Jasper avenue bridge until noon, and in the afternoon running through to the park. Three cars will be required for the service in the morning and four in the afternoon. In the afternoon also there will be a continuation of the service along Jasper east, and a service every fifteen minutes to the park by the northern route. Supt. Knight stated yesterday that he could announce no permanent schedule because the manner of operating the cars to serve traffic needs is still a matter for experiment. On Sunday a number of cars were run through from Vermilion to the park, others came east only as far as First street, and two or three weeks will be required to determine which is the more profitable system of operation. Last week the street railway carried in all 128,000 passengers, and the revenue was $8,280. It was the record in the history of the radial line in Edmonton. It is possible that before tomorrow night the half million mark may be reached. Had it not been for the period of cold, wet weather, which occurred during the present month, the attainment of this total would have been a certainty.

The success of the Sunday band concerts will probably lead to the holding of a midweek concert at the east end park, and if the experiment be found successful, two hand concerts a week throughout the summer months will be assured. The portion of the park which has been set aside for athletic purposes has been levelled off by the exhibition association, and in the near future the recreation park will become the rendezvous of Edmonton sport-loving youth. Of all the various lines which are now in view, the east end line gives promise of becoming, at least during the summer months, at once the chief pleasure route, and the most profitable section of the municipal system.

The most unsatisfactory fact about the present situation is the utter impossibility of determining whether the railway is beginning to pay its way from month to month, or whether it is continuing to pile up a big deficit. This year the capital charges are exceedingly heavy, but whether they have been counterbalanced by the increased revenue, whether the operating expenses have increased in proportion to the increasing revenue, it is impossible under the present system of departmental accounting to determine before the end of the financial year. All these facts must remain enshrouded in mystery until the city auditor produces his annual report in November. In the meantime reports of the revenue and expenses carried from week to week are to be prepared by the street railway department.

CEMENT SHORTAGE CAUSE OF DELAY

IN BUILDING CONSTRUCTION—LITTLE PROSPECT OF RELIEF FOR SEVERAL DAYS

According to a man prominent in Edmonton building circles more than $2,000,000 worth of building is being held up in Edmonton at the present time on account of the shortage of cement for construction purposes. The Teller block on First street is practically the only large block in the city on which construction is proceeding without delay from this cause. In this case the contractors had foresight enough to make arrangements with the manufacturers at Calgary early in the season for all the cement they required in the construction of the block. Contractors who did not take that precaution are plainly "up against it" and there seems to be little prospect of relief for at least ten days at least.

Construction work on the McLaughlin street school, the builders of which are Phibbs and Bales, has been delayed considerably for the past two weeks. The contractors are able to get a little cement from time to time but the work is going very slowly as they cannot secure enough to keep a full force of men at their work. Eight carloads of cement to be used in the construction of the block, and there seems to be little prospect of relief for at least ten days at least.

According to W. B. Poucher, the manager of the Exshaw plant has been forced to turn from the use of electricity, recently installed in the plant, to steam as a motive power. The electric power has proved to be unsatisfactory and the operation of the plant has been delayed greatly. Mr. Poucher recently received word from Montreal that 50,000 barrels of cement are on the lakes on their way west. Winnipeg is clamoring for building material and a great deal of this cement will be used there, but Mr. Poucher thinks it is probable that Edmonton will be able to secure some of it to help out the supply manufactured in Alberta. Some cement is now on its way to Edmonton from Fort William.

The Calgary cement plant is in bad condition and is producing only a small quantity of the material. Last season the building in which the plant is installed was condemned by the provincial factory inspector. Calgary is taking the greater part of the cement manufactured in the south of the province.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS GATHER FOR ANNUAL SPRING SESSION

Pittsburg, Pa., May 30.—The annual spring meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was opened here this afternoon with a reception at the Hotel Schenley. The membership of the society is nearly 4,000, and includes the outstanding engineers living in all parts of the country. The president is George Westinghouse, the only inventor. At the business sessions of the meeting beginning tomorrow the leading topics of discussion will be the application of steam power to engineering to the field of cement manufacture.

C. N. R. WILL CARRY PASSENGERS TO EDMONTON AT REDUCED RATES

Arrangements have been made for special trains to Edmonton from points outside the city limits on the C. N. R. on coronation day, and a special rate of a fare and a third has been allowed by the railway company, according to an announcement made by George B. Fraser, chairman of the transportation committee, at a meeting of the coronation committee held last evening.

No schedule of the trains to and from the exhibition grounds on coronation day has yet been arranged. A special railway service to the grounds to accommodate the crowds attending the coronation of the park is assured, however, and with a street car service over the Alberta avenue and Jasper east extension lines, there should be no lack of transportation facilities.

It is probable that a general programme of all the events in the celebration will be prepared in the form of a souvenir of the occasion. This matter was discussed at last night's meeting and the majority of members of the committee were in favor of the idea. At a meeting of the senior and junior sports committees held prior to the coronation of the park, a list of officials for the track and field events were chosen. Chairman W. Ward, of the senior sports committee, announced that the meet has received the sanction of the A. A. A. U.

It was decided at the general meeting to provide suitable badges for the various officials of the day.

C.N.R. HEADED TO THE PEACE RIVER

CONTRACTORS ARE PUSHING WORK OF BUILDING GRADE RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE

For the purpose of proceeding with construction of the Canadian Northern railway line northwest toward the Peace river country from Quonay, on Lac St. Anne, 40 miles west of the city on the C. N. R. main line, Michael Tobin, of the contracting firm of Tobin & White, of Missoula, Montana, is in Edmonton. This firm was successful in securing the contract for building the grade and work will be carried on as rapidly as possible this summer.

The Peace river road runs northwest from the St. Anne crossing the Pembina river, 32 miles northwest of Quonay. At the Pembina river it will be necessary to construct a large bridge, nearly half a mile long, and this itself will be a big engineering work, requiring some months to complete. The right of way of the road is now being cleared by Peter Gunn, M. P. P., for Lac St. Anne district. He secured the contract early in the spring and this work has been proceeding for about a month.

The contractors, Tobin & White, have been engaged in railway construction work in the western states for a number of years. They have fulfilled contracts on the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound railways. At present Mr. White is at Calgary en route to construct work on several contracts there.

Contractor Hughes, also of Montana, is going north to look over the situation on the Peace river line and may act as a sub-contractor under Tobin & White.

Ordered to Prepare Specifications for Pumps in Fall of 1910—Supt. De- clares that Commissioner is not stat- ing the Facts

At the afternoon session former Inspector of Buildings Gatterer was examined and the direct examination of Commissioner Bouillon was continued. Late in the afternoon a dispute arose as to the meaning of the charge relating to the commissioner's arbitrary manner and an adjournment was made until this morning.

Mr. Biggar, for the commissioners, pressed for a ruling which would admit of his waiving his right to call witnesses on the charge.

Mr. Bouillon pointed out that the committee need not rule that way and in the end adjournment was made with no decision reached. Mr. Biggar contended that the charge meant the commissioners were arbitrary in their dismissal of Gatterer.

Mr. McCaul pointed out that while there might have been reason for the dismissal of the said superintendent, the commissioners had never given any reason.

Mr. Biggar: "I do not intend to be forced on this question and will state that the charge is indefinite, the particulars are indefinite, I do not understand the charge. I ask for a ruling."

"I am not trying this case before this committee. I am trying it before the public. I cannot convince this committee of anything and there is no use in me depending upon them for a decision. I want to know exactly what the complaint is."

Mr. McCaul: "If you are afraid of the charge, don't touch it. That is your privilege. You can just do as you please."

Biggar: "I can't understand the charge."

McCaul: "I framed the charge and it seems very plain. My friend can take any course he desires. There will be opportunity to argue this case and then Mr. Biggar can talk as much as he pleases. He has no right to take this committee by the throat, however, and order them to rule a certain way or he will not go on. The committee is here to take evidence, not to discuss technical legal points. The trouble is that my learned friend does not want to argue this question and is laying a trap for the committee."

Discussing the ordering of pumps for the sedimentation basin, Commissioner Bouillon stated that they declined to install the pumps last fall. The waterworks superintendent was instructed to prepare specifications and call for tenders. Eventually the pumps were ordered from Gorman, Grindley and Grindley. There was no date set for delivery but Alderman Grindley had said that they would arrive in the city in plenty of time. There was no guarantee as to time of shipment. This had not been lived up to. He did not know whether the pumps had arrived or not.

With respect to the motor generator the commissioner admitted that the estimate was passed by the council on the seventh of February and the machine was not ordered for a month.

Former Building Inspector Gatterer stated in his evidence that he had found the plans of the car barns changed. This had been done by Superintendent Biswanger. The extra cost of installing a horizontal boiler would be ten dollars. Gross-examined witness stated that Commissioner Bouillon had told him the heating plant was all right. There was no need for grouting heating apparatus for some of the rooms in the building.

Dealing with the system of book-keeping at the power plant witness did not know exactly what was wrong but knew there was something out of the ordinary. He was not suggesting that there was a deliberate attempt being made to deceive the commissioners or other officials of the city. He admitted that he was not an accountant and that he might have found the information he was after had he gone deep enough into the question.

With respect to the building witness admitted that he had charge of the construction, but stated that he had never inspected the building. The plans were approved by Mayor Lee, who appeared to be taking a deep interest in the question and he built the building according to those plans with the exception of several alterations made by Alderman Lunney. The contract price was something over $10,000, but this had been added to through the fact that a number of changes were made.

The committee then adjourned until this morning.

The Doctor's Question

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "are your bowels regular?" He knows that ninety-eight per cent. of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Recall Orders are a positive, pleasant and sure remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Recall Orders are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, grip, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Two sizes, 25c and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Recall Store, A. Archibald.

WANT HOMES FOR LITTLE CHILDREN

The department of neglected children is looking for homes for a number of children of very tender years; four male infants under the age of one year, at the present time in the Calgary shelter waiting to be claimed by some willing parties who would assume the responsibility of parenthood toward these little strays.

The children are all normal, healthy, happy babies, and should find their way to the hearts of any woman who would be willing to adopt an infant and who is anxious to feel her investment of mother love returned a hundred fold.

Arthur, aged 41 weeks—a husky young "freshy" with large blue eyes and a happy smile—is most anxious for a good home. Clarence, aged 45 weeks, big and fair, robust and happy, should be a favorite in any home fortunate enough to adopt him. Harold, aged 14 weeks, the pride of the shelter in Calgary and of whom the matron's report states that he is the handsomest baby that has ever been in the shelter since she has been in charge. These young Abernethys are all ready for adoption. Those who would be willing to adopt a child are requested to communicate with the superintendent of neglected children at Edmonton; and if their credentials are satisfactory, it should be possible to make not only a child but some home very happy for a life time.

The Question Of Arbitrariness

It was when he came to the question of arbitrariness that Solicitor Biggar stopped and the machinery of the investigation came to a halt because the solicitor said that the charge was too intangible and indistinct for an answer.

This is the contention that the Capital has been making all the time.

The real complaint against Mr. Bouillon is not with regard to his business management, for while this may have been bad in places, it has been good in others, and the good and the bad will probably counterbalance.

But where Mr. Bouillon was expected to show an organizing ability and showed instead a cantankerousness which deprived the city of the services of good men and wrecked the esprit de corps of the civic service, he displayed characteristics which make him impossible in the position.

To prove this, however, is a difficult feat. The anti-Bouillon faction have cited the cases of the two dismissed superintendents and the three resigned superintendents. The circumstances of these dismissals and resignations Mr. Biggar wants cited as arbitrary incidents, proposing to go ahead and argue that they were not arbitrary incidents. But Solicitor McCaul takes the ground that the incidents themselves do not constitute the arbitrariness; that they are merely the evidences of arbitrariness, and he cites the facts that they occurred and puts in testimony as to how and why they occurred, intending to show thereby that there was arbitrariness.

It is the old case of trying to prove or disprove a mental of mind; something that cannot very well be done until a mental stethoscope has been invented which will record the convulsions of a human brain.

And yet the experience of the past year has been crowded with incidents to show that Mr. Bouillon is a man whose mental equipment is not of the order necessary for successfully handling a large body of men.

All the investigations in the world might be held on this point and it never be proven to a legal certainty, but the council might nevertheless be absolutely satisfied that in the interests of the city it was necessary to make a change in the personnel of its head of all departments.

Which is just exactly where the city is at on the Bouillon case, as the Capital has all along intimated that it would be.

Publicity The Great Rectifier

The Calgary Albertan puts its finger on the spot on this campaign fund business when it says that the proper cure for mysteriousness in election swags is publicity; that the publication of the source of the money would put an end to big interests paying election expenses for the purpose of getting favors from the parties after election.

Undoubtedly this is so. And if it is so and seeing that both parties clothe their operations with the greatest secrecy, is not any move to bring a corruption fund to light a good move?

The Oliver people have been talking a good deal about the publication of a forged bank account, which they say was stolen. But after all, is that not the way Abe Rueff talked in his time? And would it not be a long time that the public would be in darkness if they had to wait until the politicians who came into possession of mysterious funds came out and told about it themselves?

Rules of the Road Not Well Observed

A pamphlet placed in the hands of automobilists explaining to them the rules of the road would do much to avert possible accidents.

There are many drivers of gas wagons in this city who either do not know how to turn a corner or do not care. It is quite a common thing to see automobilists come around on the short turn, swinging into the crowded thoroughfare on exactly the path that a driver from the other direction would take if leaving the thoroughfare. Good luck has so far prevented serious accident, but with the increasing number of machines and the increasing traffic good luck will not always win out over bad driving.

It is also quite as common to see drivers turn directly from the curb and wheel about on the low gear to start down the street in the opposite direction without even going to the other side of the street, let alone going to the corner to turn. That kind of driving may be for a while, but with the number of machines in the streets increasing every day, it is certain to lead to a fatality sooner or later.

A more careful observance of the rules of the road would not cost the automobilists anything, and it would lead to much greater safety both for automobilists and pedestrians.

Seeing Olga Nethersole gives a glimpse of what it is that the others have been trying to do.

A double service on the C. N. R., a 26-hour service on the G. T. P. and a new transcontinental on the C. P. R. makes it look as though a few people were coming to Edmonton.

The colonial office in London now wants the Dominion government to give up Federated. Which leaves room for a new interpretation of the old recipe: First catch your Federenko.

Following the lead of Edmonton in amalgamating with Strathcona, Calgary is figuring on amalgamating with Medicine Hat. The intervening space is now pretty well filled with subdivisions.

Those papers which profess to believe that there will be an election before distribution could just as consistently believe that the small boy would start the game by giving away half his marbles.

TO DECIDE SPACE FOR BIG EXHIBIT

The congress is one of the great events of the season in agricultural circles across the line, and then for a number of years past the railways of the continent have cooperated with the congress in the matter of transportation.

This year a great effort is to be made to induce the congress to meet in Canada in 1932, and the Canadian delegates will exert every influence to bring this about. Recipients of the award of the scientific experiment is the much desired innovation which the Canadian delegates will endeavor to bring about.

To complete arrangements for a new packing plant for the purpose of completing arrangements for the construction of a packing plant to cost in the neighborhood of $500,000, P. COMPENSATION APPEAL CASE

COURT DECIDES THAT PROVISIONS OF 1902 ACT DO NOT APPLY TO ALIEN DEPENDENTS OF WORKMEN—CROW'S NEST PASS CO. WIN CASE.

Victoria, B. C., May 30.—The court of appeals here yesterday in the case of Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, a case which has obtained wide notoriety throughout the province, decided that the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1902, awarding compensation to the dependents of a deceased workman in circumstances provided for in the act do not apply to alien dependents of such workmen residing in a foreign country. The respondent company appealed from the judgment of Justice Clement upon a case stated submitted for his opinion by County Court Judge Wilson, acting as an arbitrator under the Workmen's compensation act, 1902.

The deceased, a workman employed by the respondent company, was killed in an accident arising out of and in the course of his employment, and the applicant applied for compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1902, on behalf of the widow who resided at the time of the accident, and his wife, in Austria. The widow was not a British subject, and never resided in British Columbia. Wilson, C. J., submitted the following questions: 1) Can an alien dependant of a deceased workman, who was a resident of the province at the time of his death, claim an award under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1902, the dependant of the deceased being an alien, residing in a foreign country at the time of the accident out of which the claim for compensation arose and at the time of the death of the deceased workman and ever since? 2) Can such legal personal representation in such circumstances be made by an alien? 3) Can compensation so awarded by an action on the award? 3) Can such a period representative in such circumstances enforce payment of the award pursuant to section 8 of the act? 4) Can the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1902, Clement, J., answered the first question in the affirmative, and expressed no opinion on the other two.

Mr. Justice Irvine dissented from the ruling of the court.

"The Spring Maid" is to have an Australian production.

WM. ROCKEFELLER

New York, May 30.—William Rockefeller, who, next to his elder brother, John D. Rockefeller, is probably the richest man in the United States, quietly celebrated his seventy-third birthday anniversary tomorrow. Mr. Rockefeller was born in Toga County, New York, but grew up in Cleveland and attended the public schools in that city.

Mr. Rockefeller is a man of great industry and acquisitiveness were the most conspicuous traits in his character, when at the age of seventeen he dropped out of school books and became a book-keeper for a miller. Before he was twenty-one he had formed a connection with a flour mill, and had just turned twenty-one when he became a partner in the concern. In 1864 he went into the business of a hardware dealer with his brother, John D., in Cleveland. The brothers, who had associated with John Sanderson, a veteran in the oil business, built a little refinery which they called the Standard Oil Company. This was the beginning of the gigantic corporation which the supreme court of the United States recently decided was too powerful to be permitted to exist and ordered that it be dissolved within six months.

William Rockefeller's personality, his millions and the interest which he is identified, have always been overshadowed, in a measure, by the great wealth of his brother. Nevertheless, the wise ones in the financial world have been heard to declare more than once that William was the brains of the Rockefeller family. He has been the speculative member of the Standard Oil family, and has engineered all of the vast deals of that combination in the stock market.

When he became president of the Standard oil corporation many years ago he has been intimately associated with the Standard Oil family, and while his name is not as conspicuous as that of his brother, he is said to possess more power in the world of the corporation whose power has been spread to all the countries of the world.

Mr. Rockefeller has lived under a tremendous nervous strain for more than forty years. His early associates in Standard oil have followed to the grave one by one. Five of the heads of the great corporation have passed away in the last two or three years, including Henry H. Rogers, whose inevitable taxing off is attributed by his friends to his worry and mental strain resulting from the government suits against the Standard oil company.

Mr. Rockefeller has been very busy to withstand the terrific strain of his position is all the more surprising. The detail of the court consists of Chief Justice, with the consent of the five years ago the cables brought word from Europe that his death was reported as imminent. At that time he was reported to be suffering from an incurable malady—nothing less than cancer of the stomach—and it was not believed he could recover. Today, however, Mr. Rockefeller is apparently as well as he has been in many years, and he is all appearances he takes as keen an interest in business affairs as he ever did.

AMUSEMENTS

"If they hadn't come back, smiled and bowed, I would have forgotten that it wasn't real," said a lady at the Empire last night, and the lady probably unconsciously accorded to Miss Netherole and her talented company the highest praise which it is in the power of any critic to bestow upon an artist or company of artists.

Undoubtedly Miss Olga Netherole is the leading emotional actress of the American stage and her performance in "The Redemption of Evelyn Vaudray" at the Empire theatre last night proclaimed her mistress of the histrionic art and the logical successor of the great Sarah Bernhardt, whom she resembles somewhat in facial contour and mannerisms.

That so great an artist as Miss Netherole should be without mannerisms is hardly to be expected and her peculiar diction threatened in the opening scene to mar the beauty of her interpretation, but as the play progressed she lost herself in her work and ran the entire gamut of wifely emotions with exquisite naturalness and artistic restraint. Like the true artist, Miss Netherole did not at any place overplay her role and the opportunities for so doing were many.

The supporting company were particularly well selected. Mr. Walter Edwards as Paul Vaudray, the husband in the case, gave a rugged and clear cut interpretation of a role which held many possibilities. The performance of Messrs. Roberts and Erskine were finished and letter perfect. Mrs. Geo. W. Barron as Julie was the most conspicuous among the less important characters to the play for a very intelligent and interesting interpretation of her role. Little Joe Wallace also got a certain call which was all his own.

The play which is a French adaptation is very much superior to the average French play of this type. The author has grasped a genuine human interest story and worked it out with great care and a thorough knowledge of the requirements of modern stagecraft. There is a pleasing absence of the requirements of modern stagecraft. There is a pleasing absence of unnecessary detail and a story that grips the attention from the very first line.

The entire play centres around the adventures of Evelyn Vaudray who has been reared in an unfavorable environment and unhappily married. She leaves her husband for a celebrated author who in turn casts her aside at the instance of a fawning patron of his art. The mother instinct which is the central theme of the story impels her to return to see her little boy and while there she meets her former husband and is the reconciliation after hanging in the balance for a melodramatic pause is finally consummated.

The master hand of Mr. Ben Greig is seen in the staging and the production of this probably the greatest modern problem play of the year. Tonight Miss Netherole will appear in a double bill, "Slater Beatrice" and "The Enigma," and again tomorrow night in "The Redemption of Evelyn Vaudray."

COMIC OPERA AT LYCEUM

IS PROVED A SUCCESS

Sherman and Cleveland's first production of a comic opera in Edmonton at the Lyceum theatre last evening made quite a hit. "The Sho-Gun" is the play and it was given an elaborate setting as well as a splendid interpretation. All the characters, with the exception of one, are supposed to be natives of an imaginary island in the South Sea. The exception is an American who through an accident is in a sailing vessel washed ashore on this island. He is believed to be a spy and the ruler of the island orders him to be executed, but his ready wit saves him. He conceives a plan to form all the people of the island into a sailing mission. The executioners join the executioner, union and refuses to harm him. At the finale, he is made ruler of the island.

The comedy is of a high order and the song hits include "You Honoured Women Will Last," sung by Miss Irene Mack and Fred Snider, in a very pleasing manner; "Because You Love Me," by Miss Gladys Pinn (the little girl with the big voice); and "Burial for the Jacks," by Frank Snyder.

Jack Westerman as the lord high executioner did very clever work and the rest of the large cast were seen to good advantage.

MEMORIAL TO THE VICTIMS OF DISASTROUS SHIPWRECK

Two Rivers, Wis., May 30.—A simple memorial shaft with an inscription telling the tale of one of the most disastrous shipwrecks in the history of Lake Michigan was unveiled in the little cemetery here today in memory of the unknown victims of the wreck of the steamer Vernon. The Vernon was lost off Twin River point the night of Oct. 27, 1887, and but one of the fifty-four persons aboard was saved. Eighteen bodies were picked up and claimed by relatives while seven others were unidentified and were buried in one grave in the Twin Rivers cemetery. Over the grave the memorial has been erected by public subscription.

ESKIMOS LOSE TO MAROONS AFTER FOURTEEN INNINGS

It Was a Splendid Game That the Deacon Lost—Both Teams Played Spirited Ball for Fourteen Innings When Eskimos Let the Third Run in Making the Score 3-2 Deacon Has Crippled Bunch of Ball Players

Winnipeg, May 29. (Special to the Capital.)—The Maroons took fourteen innings to win the opening game of the Deacon White's Eskimos. The score was three to two. Both sides tossed away numerous chances to score, but Pitcher Hay had a big share of the pitching duel with Whisman. The visitors collected their two counters in the second innings after two were down and it should have been three, for Umpire Boswell missed on Lussi who was caught with a foot ball. Brennan fouled out to the catcher. Slight then batted out a triple scoring Lussi and came home on an error of Krueger. It was one, two, three from this on for the White crowd hit the ninth and they did not get another hit until the tenth.

The Maroons got their first counter in the second on a base on balls, a sacrifice and a hit by Edmunds. Whisman forced in the fourth by passing Donovan with the bases full and two men out.

The extra innings were all thrillers in the tenth the Alberta men got two hits and had two on but could not get around. The Maroons followed up and saved the day for the time being. The fourth was chuck full of excitement and it looked as if the visitors had collected the bacon. Cox got one on the arm for a starter, Lussi limbed safely, Brennan sacrificed, then Apud Hay passed Slight, filling the bases. Sorenson flew out to Freer who held Cox on third by a quick throw to the plate. Whisman grounded to Vandine who touched third sack for the third put out. The Maroons put over the winning run on Freer's hit, followed by Joe. White's sacrifice and Edmunds' safe hit to center.

PENDENNIS IS WINNER FIRST HOTEL GAME

IT WAS A GAME OF MIGHTY VALE BOTH TEAMS PLAYED BRAVE BALL BUT PEN. WON 14-3

The Pendennis was a baseball game. The teams were the Pendennis Hotel and the Alberta Hotel. It was the opening game of the famous Hotel League. The score was 14 to 3. Garrison was umpire. What more could fans want?

Talk about your rooting. It wasn't anything like the noise. You made when it looked as though the Alberta team might get ahead. That was a famous noise. The first inning gave the Alberta Hotel one run and the Pendennis none, but in the second the Pendennis scored four runs.

Only five innings were played. It was dark at the end of the fifth. Garrison called it on account of darkness in spite of the protests of the losers. The teams lined up as follows:

Pendennis—Burns, 2b; Drayton, 3b; N. Sutter, 1b; Helmer, 1b; Bonnett, cf; Dever, cf; Wallace, 1f; Lee, 1f; G. Sutter, cf; Penner, 1f; Smith, 1f; Wolf, ss; Morn, 1f; Oliver, c; and Smith, p.

CITY LEAGUE SHOWS ENTERPRISE

The opening of the city league this year seems to indicate that the amateurs have availed to the fact that they may with some degrees of success compete for popular favor with the professional team. THE DERBY AGAIN

Once more Derby Day is close at hand and speculation is rife as to the probable result. In a race of this kind where all the horses carry the same weight, the favorite, of course, the sex allowance for mares (geldings not being allowed to compete) public form often or than not affords a fair guide. A few weeks ago the race seemed very open, and hopes were raised of another French or American victory, but the result of the Two Thousand Guineas race has given the indicating arrow to the probable victor. Mr. J. B. Joel's Sunstar seems to have won very easily in the quick time of 1:37 odd. The only horse to challenge him at all was the American, Iron Mask II, which, however, faded away at a quarter of a mile from home. According to a report from Newmarket, Iron Mask II. is a high class animal, which he thinks is destined for high honors. The Derby being a mile and a half and the Two Thousand Guineas a mile, there is a difference which brings out the staying capabilities of the animal, and it may be that some day he will have a much better chance than the favorite, but at present Sunstar, on form, is bound to start a hot favorite. The French can't do much to appear to amount to much. This year, for the first time, a Canadian horse will go to the post in the Sunstar Derby, the property of R. M. Dale, of Qu'Appelle, but no reports have been received as to his being a cracker jack, and there is no justification to suppose that Mr. Dale will succeed where numerous men have failed, after the expenditure of thousands. All credit to Mr. Dale, however, for his plucky venture. Mr. J. B. Joel, the owner of Sunstar, is a South African magnate, who is not very popular in the old country, mainly because of a Victorian campaign of "showing up the past," by a well-known sporting weekly.

He was twenty years old, soon after arriving in this country from Sweden.

MORE THAN THIRTY HORSES WILL START IN THE DERBY

Sunstar Will Start a Warm Favorite With Betting Six to Four—Kel D'Or the Canadian Horse is Fairly Popular King William Will Be in the Race—Some Long Odds Being Given

London, C.A.P., May 29.—Interest in the Derby to be run Wednesday at Epsom is very keen. Sun Star, a strong favorite at 5 to 4, by Mrs. Asker's Alan Melton; J. L. Waumann's Collin; H. P. Kicak's Elton Boy; L. de Rothschild's St. Anton and Pietri; Reid Walker's Admire; H. P. Whitney's All Gold, and Royal Eagle.

London, May 30.—Sunstar, owned by J. B. Joel, will start a warm favorite for the Derby on Wednesday next. There will be a good field, and though Sunstar does not win Jack Joel will be the most disappointed and upset man in the British Empire. In the opinion of size and action he is the ideal horse for Epsom. Stevenson says of one of his characters that he was "like unto a man who has asked a question of life and death and stopped his heart for the answer." Matters are not quite so bad as that with Mr. Joel, but he is unquestionably so obsessed by the glittering prospect of winning the Coronation Derby for his turf fortunes outside to be of no consequence. King William has been well backed at odds of 6 to 1, and others well fancied are Pietri, Stedfast, and Admire. King William is well thought of, but Prince Palatine has been scratched on account of his cough. He was the first horse to be supported for the Derby, a very substantial wager being accepted about him previous to his defeat in the Dewhurst Plate.

About the Derby

The crowning of King George and Queen Mary will arrest the attention of the world for the moment, but the result of the Derby will be awaited with impatient interest in every corner of the civilized world.

It is doubtful if there is a single club in the British dominions where the Britisher in exile and his colonial brother forget that, in his youth, he was a sportsman, and that the main topic during the month of May will be, not of the coronation, but, "what will win the derby?"

CALLIES TAKE VERY FAST FOOTBALL GAME, 1 TO 0

NORWOOD PLAYED ALMOST AS GOOD A GAME AS DID THE SCOTTS, BUT THEY WORKED IN HARD LUCK—CALLIES FORWARD LINE DID NOT TAKE ADVANTAGE OF CHANCES—GAME WAS GOOD EXHIBITION.

The Callies won from the Norwood football team by a score of one to nothing. Although the Scots got the winning goal, it cannot be said that they had much the better of the suburban aggregation. The Norwood boys played a good game all the time although the Callies pressed the play hard in the first half. Norwood had a better idea of a combination game and several times they were so near shooting the pluckin through the posts that it was only bad luck that kept it out.

The goal which was made by the Callies was scarcely earned or at least it should have been. The shot was made by Hope. The goal keeper for Norwood had the ball in his hands but by some mismanagement allowed it to slip through. Outside of that one unfortunate occurrence he played a good game.

McKenzie, a Calliean full back, was the star player for the Scots. Norwood had a little weak in the defence but good back checking by the half back line helped them out.

The attendance at the games on Diamond park is growing. The game was fully 300 at the game last night and the routing was vociferous.

The excursion planned for Wednesday by the Edmonton Portland Cement company to the site of their proposed plant, has been postponed. Arrangements will probably be made to take about fifty shareholders out to the mud beds on Saturday.

The semi-annual election of officers of Namayo Lodge No. 17, L.O.P., took place at the regular meeting last evening at the hall at the corner of Griesbach and Namayo. The officers elected were as follows: N. G. Wade, V. G., A. Robinson; recording secretary, J. L. Dickinson.

BULL MARKET MONTREAL TODAY

Montreal, May 30.—The market was unusually bullish this morning, Canadian Pacific and Detroit United being feature, with Canadian Pacific opening at 230, a new high record and then moved on big buying and corp prospects to 239 1/2.

Winipeg, May 30.—Owing to this being Decoration day south of the line there are no American markets today. May went going out on the crest of the wave yesterday.

NEGRO IMMIGRATION EXPECTED TO FALL OFF VERY MATERIALLY

Winipeg, May 30.—That the partial removal of the discrimination which has prevailed against the negro in the United States, a removal which has been effected by decisions of the supreme court, will have the effect of reducing the amount of immigration from south of the international boundary line to Canada, is the opinion expressed by W. J. White, who has charge of the immigration offices at the representative of the Canadian government in the States. The immigration of the Oklahoma negroes and other negroes, will practically cease within a very short period. It is recognized that the climate of western Canada is unsuitable for negroes, and every effort will be made by organizations interested in keeping them on the American side, to kill the movement Canadianwards.

STRATHCONA NEWS

Settlers suffer hardships near Jenkins Strathcona, May 30.—It is claimed beyond the power of any administration to provide good roads in all parts of a province so large and new as Alberta but there is said to be a place in the northwest where the newly organized township has uncovered conditions that require immediate action from the public works department at Edmonton.

The district reported to be so arduous in need of road improvements is that lying north of Jenkins on the G. T. P. some distance east of the McLeod river. Two Americans from Spokane, who reached this city last week after having made the trip from Whitecourt on the Athabasca to Jenkins, speak strongly of the terrible roads along the eighty mile route, the trail from Greencourt to Jenkins being especially difficult to navigate.

Only by making the journey on foot were the Spokane men enabled to cover the distance from the Athabasca to the railway. Incoming homesteaders with horses and so fortunate as to have apparently as these men state that by actual count they found 429 settlers stranded in the mud between Jenkins and Greencourt and this with the food supply running alarmingly low in many instances. The road conditions were making life miserable for 83 more homesteaders according to the count of the two pedestrians. The question of food all along the trail was becoming a prominent one and the settlers declared that actual want would be experienced by some of the settlers before they got through with their teams.

Possibly the network of small streams makes traveling conditions so bad north of Jenkins. Numerous tributaries, the McLeod, Athabasca, Pembina and Paddle rivers have their courses in the districts between Chip Lake and Whitecourt and the road has to cross many of them. The Spokane men found the worst trail about 45 miles of the trip from Whitecourt to Jenkins. They were well pleased with that section of the country aside from the bad road conditions and have secured land near the Athabasca and have now returned to Washington for their families. They do not, however, indicate taking the families north west until fall unless the roads are in some manner improved before that time.

Will Attempt to Improve Crossing at Mill Creek

With a view of remedying the present bad conditions at the crossing of the new grade at the Mill Creek bridge over the street railway near the bridge, the city council at the special meeting Friday night gave City Engineer Latornel of Edmonton permission to survey the road some distance to the north is by this means a satisfactory crossing can be made over the tracks.

Some time ago the council passed a resolution calling upon the street railway to lower their tracks at the crossing to make conditions better but after a special committee had looked over the ground, and it was pointed out by Mr. Latornel that even with the rails inclined inches lower the grade would still be unsatisfactory, it was thought that the best solution of the difficulty would be to swing the grade considerably to the north and thus secure a crossing place much improved. In the opinion of the council the purchase of property for this alteration of grade is such, he is necessary should fall upon the Edmonton department as the presence of the street railway is mainly responsible for the objectionable grade with the road to the bridge as low as it is. It appeared to be the general opinion in the council that the street railway should be asked to complete the new bridge should be considerably elevated and widened and the government may be approached regarding the matter.

Mayor Davies took the opportunity of expressing to Mr. Latornel his opinion that the present tracks of the street railway up Fifth east are altogether too high and he wished that some steps might be taken to have the crossing along that section of the road conform more closely with the street level. Ald. Calder went a step further with the declaration that the street railway department should cut down the roadway on the bridge hill to meet their track level.

MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL TONIGHT PROMISES TO BE BRIEF

But very little business of importance is scheduled for the regular meeting of the council this evening and there is every indication that the session will be a short one. At the meeting the council will be asked to name the third arbitrator to settle the dispute between the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern Railway company with respect to the purchase of property on McLeod avenue for a hotel site. The arbitrator for the disputing parties are J. B. McIntosh and James McGeorge. Who the arbitrator to be appointed by the council will be has not been decided as yet.

BOUILLON FEARS CONSPIRACY DRIVE

Mr. Bouillon also admitted that he was not one of your chief officers would have been a serious matter to produce harmonious relations.

Witness: "I considered it my duty to tell him exactly where he stood. Mr. Bouillon also admitted that he was not one of your chief officers would have been a serious matter to produce harmonious relations."

Dealing with the dismissal of ex-Superintendent McNaughton, Mr. Bouillon says as a reason that he and the superintendent could not get along. He had tried to co-operate with the superintendent, but the latter would not let him properly. It was true that Mr. McNaughton had offered to fix the filtration plant and had been practically sold, in a polite way, to attend to his own business. After that the superintendent carried out only written orders from the commission of the fair.

Intending had also gone so far as to state that if the commissioners so ordered he would dump the plant in the Saskatchewan river. Gross examined, witness admitted that there were no documents or copies of documents of this kind in the files of the superintendent was insubordinate. Most of the instructions were given verbally. He had advised the superintendent to be dismissed in October, but Mayor Lee and Commissioner Butchart intervened. He took the question up in January with Mayor Armstrong and Commissioner Butchart. They had stated that they thought the superintendent should have been let out a long time before. He entered a motion to dismiss but got no second. He did the same one week later. Again he had advised the superintendent to be dismissed in October, but Mayor Lee and Commissioner Butchart intervened. He took the question up in January with Mayor Armstrong and Commissioner Butchart. They had stated that they thought the superintendent should have been let out a long time before. He entered a motion to dismiss but got no second. He did the same one week later. Again he had advised the superintendent to be dismissed in October, but Mayor Lee and Commissioner Butchart intervened.

Ex-Chief Davidson's evidence to the contrary, witness stated that the chief had no reason for resigning other than that he secured a better position. The witness applied to ex-Chief Lewis. Witness admitted that there was a reason for Superintendent McPherson resigning and indicated that the commissioners had been contemplating his dismissal for some time. He considered it very probable that Chief Latornel had been to see the superintendent who was protecting the interests of the public.

Commissioner Butchart denied absolutely that he had told Alderman Lundy that the mayor's position would be untenable and that unless the mayor left his office he would be removed. He would wish he had never been elected. Without any prompting, the commissioner then indicated that the reason Alderman Lundy had said such a charge was because he had refused to purchase a house from the alderman.

and had also refused to appoint one of the alderman's pets as superintendent of the power plant.

Alderman Lundy: "That is simply a deliberate lie."

Gross examined by Mr. McCaul, witness refused to explain what he meant by the insinuation.

McCaul: "You may be, but what do you mean by making such insinuations? Your word is no better than Alderman Lundy's."

Witness: "I do not care to have my word put alongside Alderman Lundy's. With respect to the different superintendents, witness stated that their positions might be considered important, but intimated that if the said superintendent were well qualified their positions would be rendered much less important.

McCaul: "Knew anything of the system of bookkeeping carried on in 1910?"

Witness: "Yes."

McCaul: "You wanted certain information relating to the finances of the power plant?"

Witness: "Yes."

McCaul: "Did you not see the building inspector, who is not an accountant, to get that information?"

Witness: "Yes."

McCaul: "You knew the city had an auditor. Why did you not apply to him? Do you not?"

Witness: "I did not ask him. The former superintendent of buildings did not and did not receive the information."

McCaul: "I intend to call the auditor and show that he was not asked for a statement and that if he had been it would have been furnished."

Mr. Biegar: "If you want the statement from the auditor, why not ask for it?"

McCaul: "Mr. Biegar, I have allowed you in direct examination to bring out a large number of points which are not substantiated by any written document, but only by word of mouth. I have done this so that the investigation would be as fair as possible. When I want statements, I will ask for them or produce them."

The committee then adjourned until 2:30.

Emma Trentini has sailed for Europe, and on her return, in September, will begin her second season in "The Merry Widow."

Beatrice Noyes has been engaged for an important part in "The Cave Man," by Gilbert Burgess, in which Robert Edison is to star.
